8:00 Biber - The Rosary Sonatas: Lindsey Strand-Polyak, baroque violin; Eric J. Wang, harpsichord*

In 1676, Heinrich Ignaz Franz von Biber completed a series of sonatas around the fifteen Mysteries of the Rosary, utilizing a variety of violin tunings called /scordatura/, resulting in unusual effects. Department of Musicology graduate students Lindsey Strand-Polyak and Eric J. Wang will present some of these sonatas, as well as works by Biber's contemporaries, in the haunting, resonant acoustics of the Powell Rotunda, which are not unlike the acoustics of Salzburg Cathedral where Biber himself likely performed. Accompanying this recital will be a lecture on the scordatura technique and its cultural significance. UCLA Powell Library, 2nd floor Rotunda. Free admission; no reservations required. Parking is $8. Closest parking lots to Powell Library are Lots 4, 2 or 5. Powell Library is located directly across from Royce Hall.
